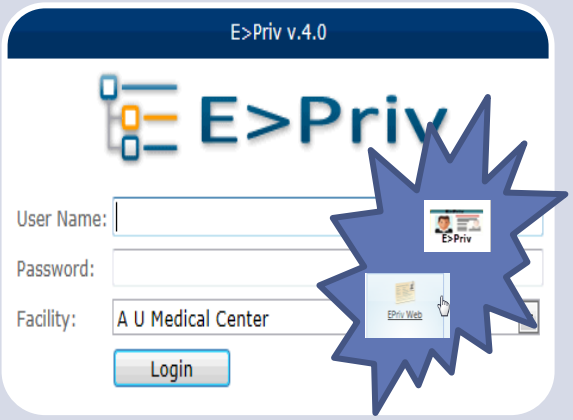
Single Point Lesson
How to view Medical Staff Privileges and Resident Competencies

Steps to view Medical Staff Privileges:



E-Priv to verify provider privileges

CVO Competency Log

Resident Competency Log

For all new providers, as well as providers being reappointed, they are being converted to the AU Medical Center facility. They will no longer be in CHOG or GRMC facility.

For now, you will need to verify privileges in all three (3) facilities until the conversion has been completed. If you don't see your provider in the GRMC or CHOG facility, you will need to check the AUMC facility.

The log-in information is:

- CHOG - nurse/nurse
- GRMC – nursing/nursing
- AUMC – aumc/aumc

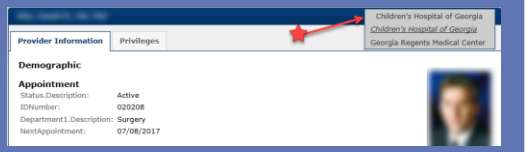
What is the CVO login?

This login is meant to be the all-encompassing area for attending privileges. If you look for the provider in CVO and are unable to find him/her, you then need to look in the appropriate entity (CHOG, GRMC, and AUMC) to view the credentials.



When viewing privileges this way, be sure that you are looking under the correct facility. You can choose the facility by left clicking on the drop-down menu at the top right of the providers page. The facility chosen will be in italics and underlined.

The log-in information is:

CVO/CVO123

To verify Resident Competencies and level of supervision required, access the Resident Competency Log.

Password: nursing

Supervision Required Codes:

- A = Approved/deemed to be competent for the unsupervised performance of the designated procedure
- S = Always supervised by either upper level resident who is deemed to be competent to perform the same procedure, or a privileged faculty member
- X = Not approved to perform the procedures/must always be supervised by a privileged faculty member